The tradition.

The tradition, the present, the future.

Tradition has been the key word at Falls Church High for many years; our Jaguar crest and window, green and white, the streak of losses, the occasions of victory, the irrepressible spirit, the band, the drama productions . . . the school building. Tradition has been . . .

Next year will bring a new life for our school; a bigger student body, a new building and new "traditions". A challenging step for the administration, faculty, and students; a big step made, perhaps, just a little easier by the past. To a past of achievement, a present of action a future of continued progress the yearbook staff presents the '67 Jaguar.

The present.

The future.

The school.

This is Falls Church High . . .

The dances.

The students.

The tradition.

The activities.

. . . with sports, friendships, social activities, organizations, learning, and, most of all, fun. Freshmen began; sophomores experienced; juniors advanced; seniors started anew

Mostly we loved it; sometimes we hated it; but we will never forget it.

Those four years bring many accomplishments . . .

Suzi Davis and John Stevenson: Suzi finally gets her man!

"Going" to Mr. Valotto's office instead of "being sent."

Making that all important decision.

Ricky Russell: Getting thraugh another day.

Solitude.

Jack Mitchell and Mrs. Miles: The awards.

How could anyone forget . . .

. . . those hard summer practices that paid off?

. . . the class and club activities?

Mr. Lunsford: Our excuse for a great teacher?

. . . the pep rallies?

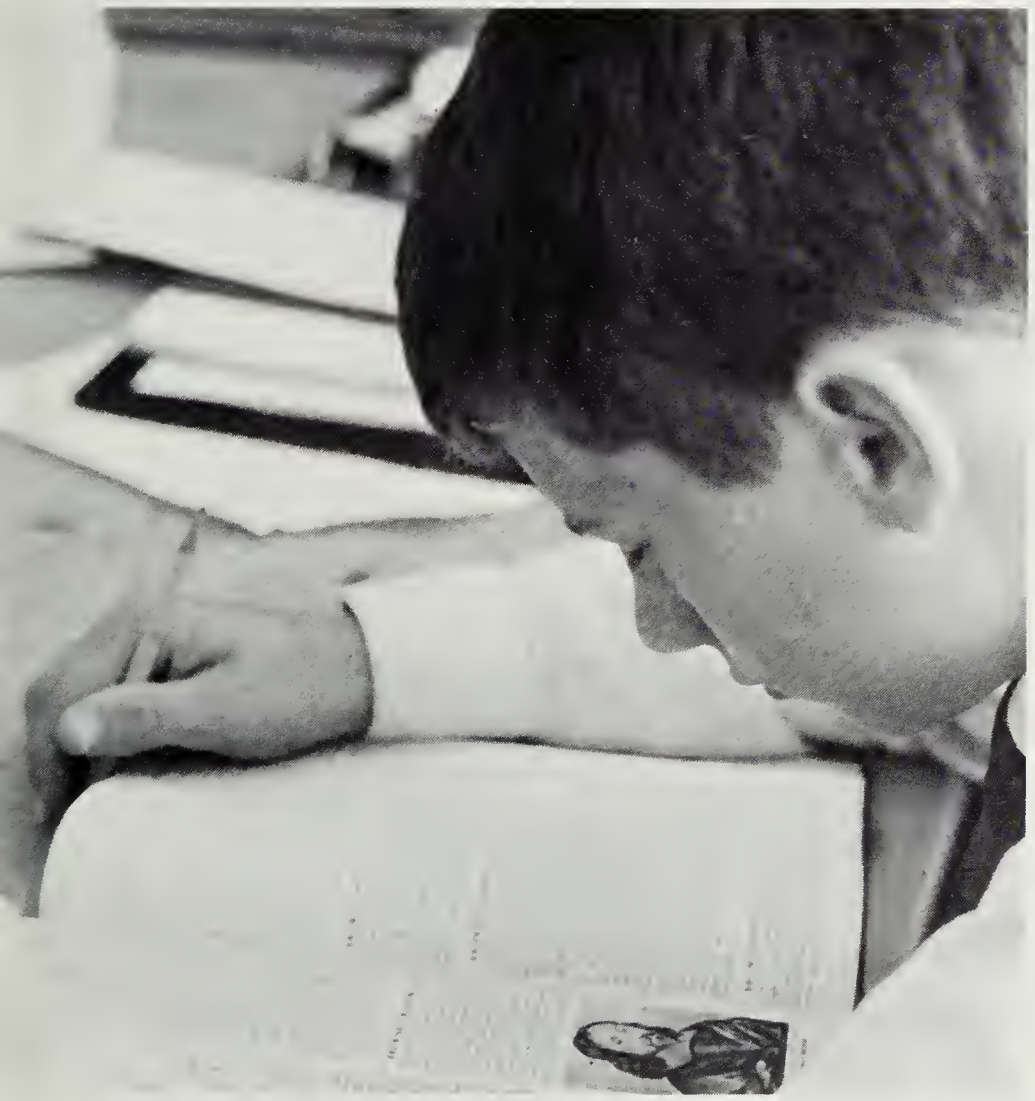

. . . the spirit?

Patti Willis and Joann Breyer: . . . when we won?

. . . the participation?

. . . the studies?

. . . our teams?

A progressive band.

Progress is made on the new "stomping grounds".

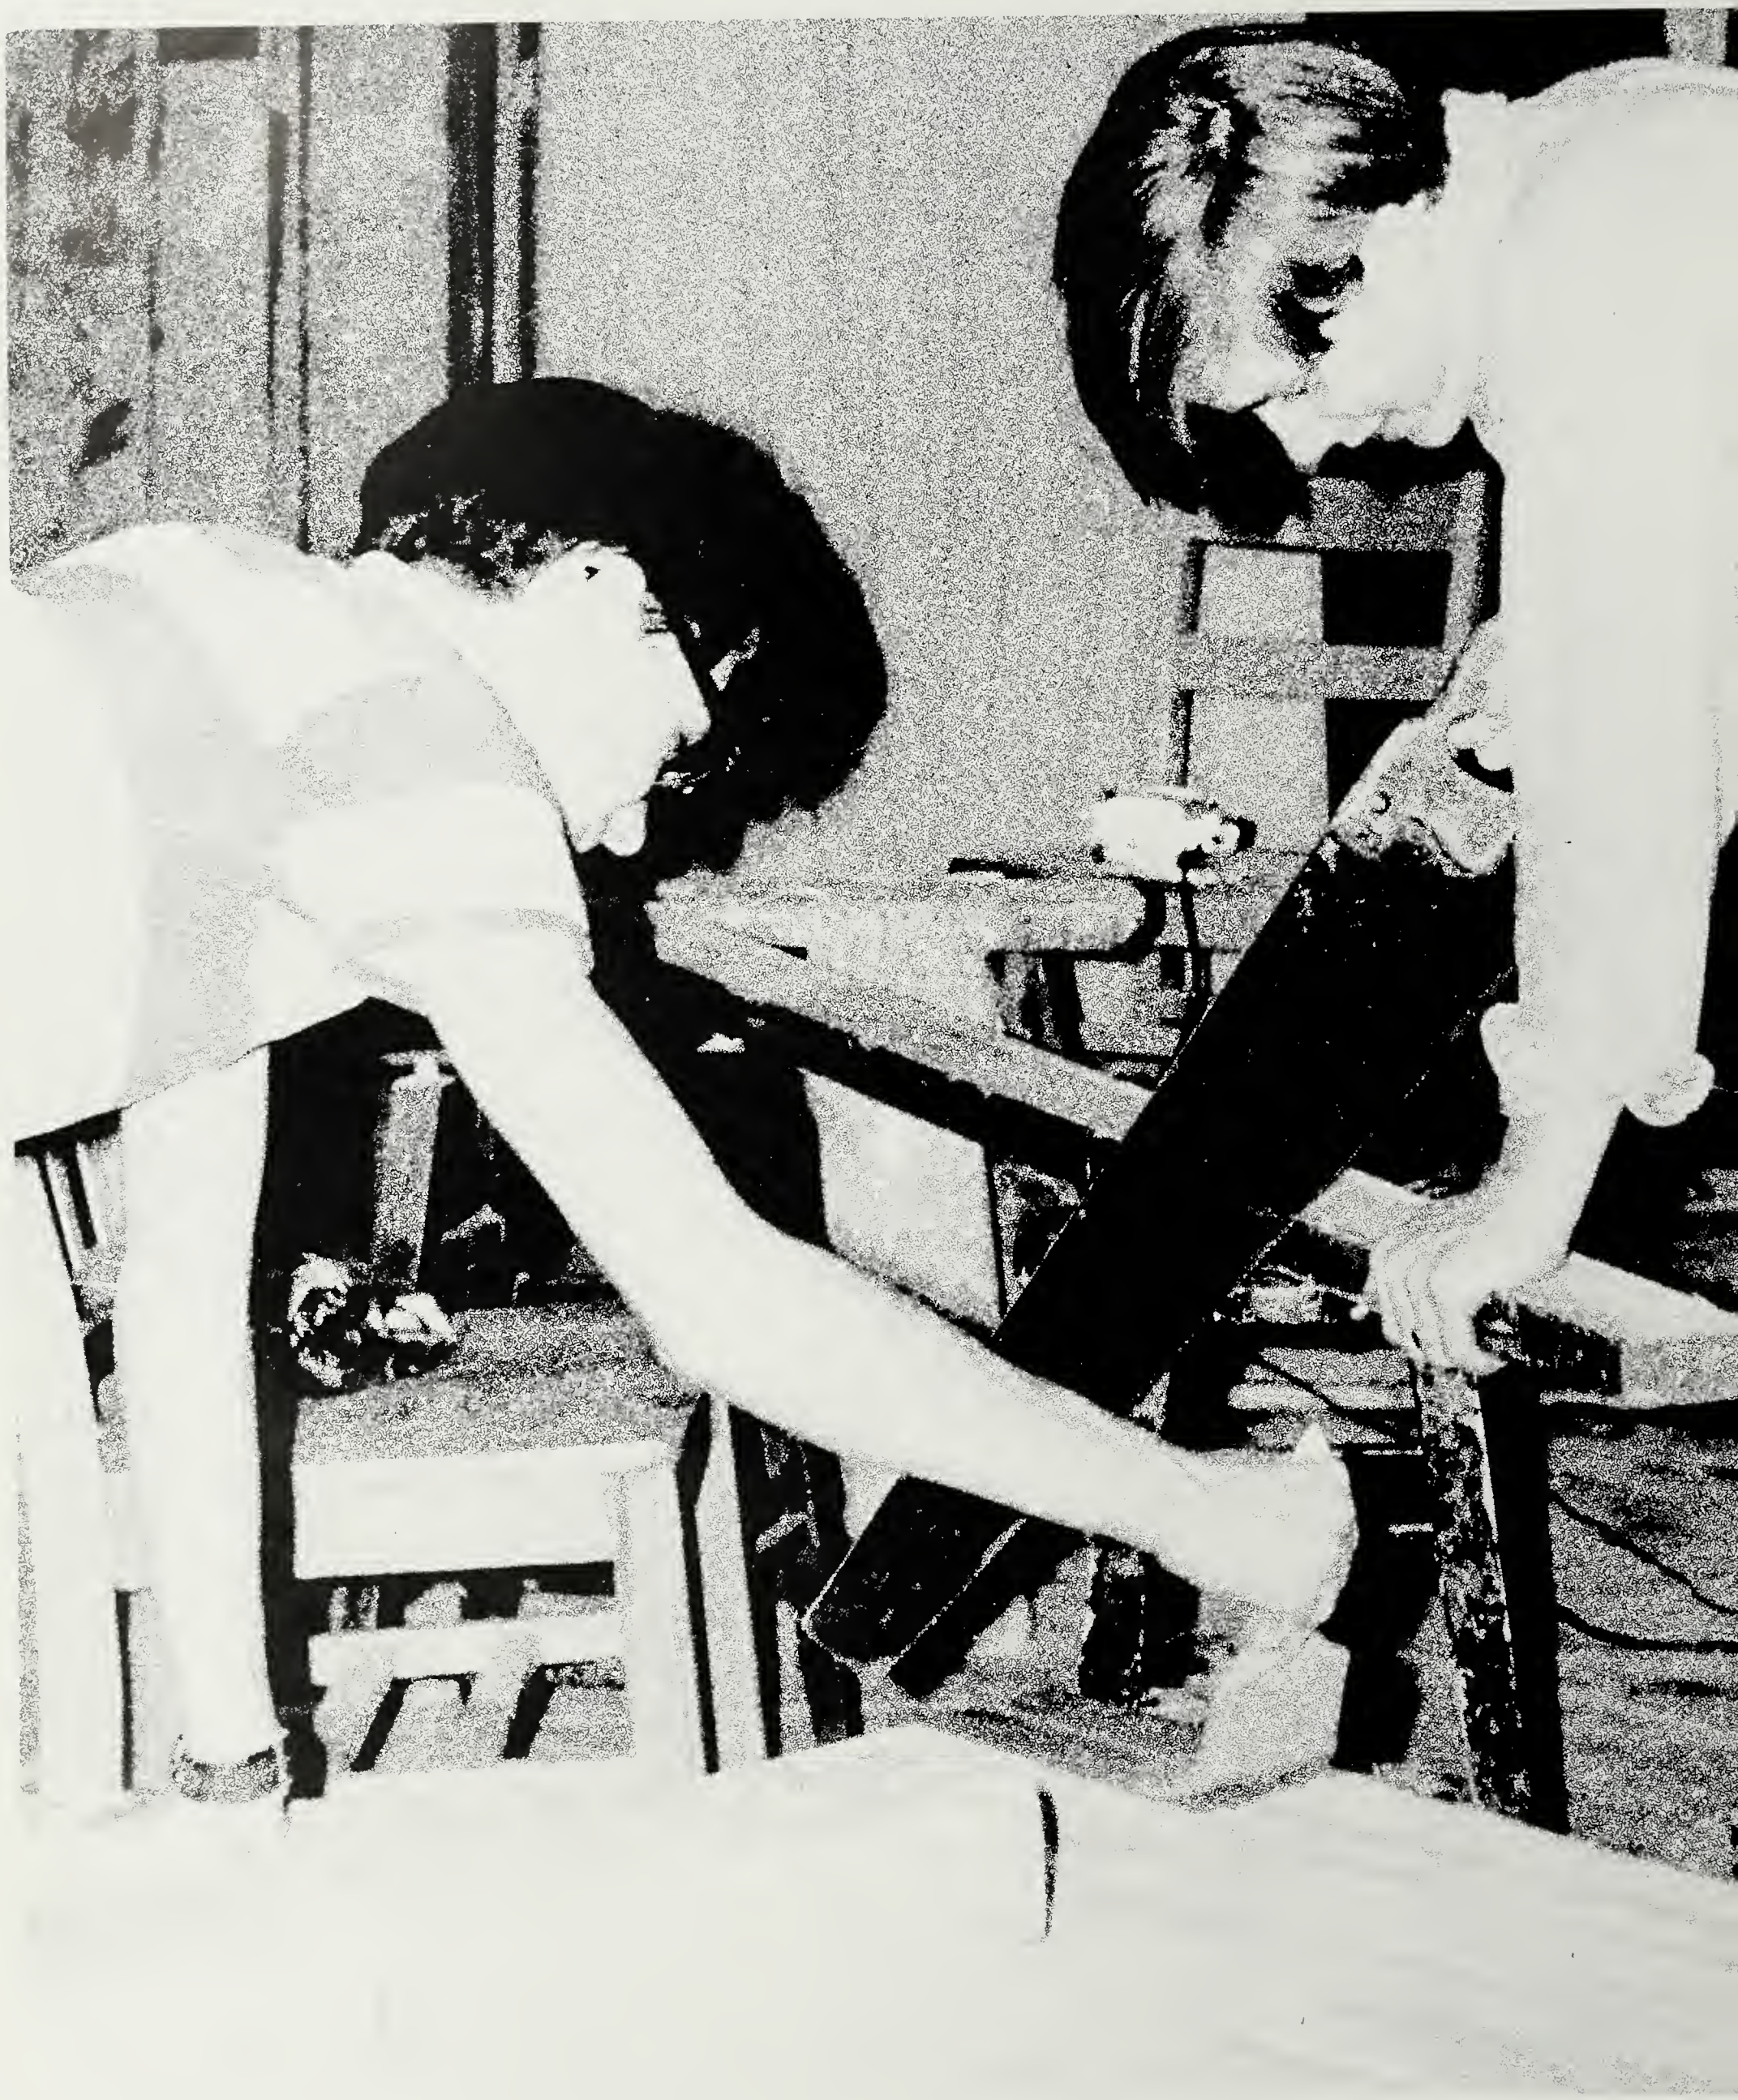

Ann Swing: What does she see in the future?

What will the future bring?

Dave,
To a real doll
Remember Varsonic

SCA President, Ed Pouly, mokes the morning onnouncements

This past year the SCA has seen new projects as well as having surpassed records set in old projects.

The first project of the year, Freshmen Orientation, proved very successful. Conducted as usual, but with more exhibits, the night proved enlightening for the Frosh. The week of becoming acquainted with the school ended with the SCA sponsered Welcome Dance.

September brought the Magazine Drive and a $3400 profit. Class jaguars, teen pens, dream pets and class competition helped to spark the interest which afforded the SCA its large profit.

In December the annual Canned Food Drive was again held. This year we challenged Stuart in order to get everyone to contribute. We collected over 9,000 cans to beat Stuart.

January was the scene for a new project—the paper back book drive for the soldiers in Vietnam. Although it was the first time for such a project, the SCA faired well by collecting over 400 books.

In February the annual Sweetheart Dance was held in the most unusal atmosphere ever—"Illusion". By the use of parachutes, weather balloons, and effective lighting, the SCA was able to provide an enjoyable dance for Falls Church.

March was a busy month for the SCA. The first part of the month found the SCA working to raise $200 for Brazil '67. This project consisted of equipping a school in Cacimbas, Brazil. By using the same idea as last year, "The Chain of Friendship", the SCA was able to raise the necessary funds.

The last part of the year was spent holding elections for SCA and classes.

Under the leadership of Ed Pauly and the guidance of Mr. Valotto, the SCA has been successful in accomplishing all the goals it had set.

I.C.C.

The Inter-Club Council is composed of all club presidents. Its main function is to coordinate club activities so they do not conflict.

Under the leadership of Glen Geuder the ICC has strived to uphold the by-laws which were drawn up last year.

During the early part of the summer, work was begun on the "Green Book". Glen and his committee worked diligently all summer so that it was finished by the first day of the school.

Besides publishing the "Green Book," the ICC also issued welcome packets to all new students. These pack ets consist of information on each club at Falls Church.

The ICC has done much this past year to futher the relations between clubs.

National Honor Society

The Members of the National Honor Society who have helped to promote scholarship, leadership, service, and character throughout Falls Church.

Bob Blake posts the latest Honor Roll Students.

Scholarship, leadership, service, and character are the four basic qualities necessary for a student to be a member of the National Honor Society. Members must also be juniors or seniors who have attended Falls Church for at least one semester.

The purpose of the National Honor Society was to promote enthusiasim in each of the four qualities of its members. To create interest in scholarship the members tutored students who requested help, recognized honor roll students, and gave a $100 scholarship to a worthy member. The Easter Seal Drive was the main means of promoting service. The Friday flag salute and the "Thought of the Week" encouraged the development of character while speaking to the Frosh before elections promoted leadership.

With Mrs. Romanus as sponsor and an emphasis on scholarship and leadership, the society did its best to contribute to the success of the school year.

National Junior Honor Society

The members of the National Junior Honor Society who have followed in the steps of the National Honor Society by helping to promote scholarship.

The National Junior Honor Society, patterned after the National Honor Society, is composed of ninth and tenth grade students with a "B" average and no grade below a "C".

To promote interest in scholarship, the National Junior Honor Society tutored students who requested help, and helped to organize an honor society at J.G. Whittier Intermediate School. The society also served the community by raising money for Higher Horizons, a day care center. This was accomplished by selling handmade stuffed animals and holding bake sales.

The National French Honor Society, organized to promote interest in the French customs and language, has been very active this past year.

Among their activities were French movies and French-style dinners at nearby restaurants. In order to acquaint students with France the society sponsored a French Week.

Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica

Although it has only been organized two years, the National Spanish Honor Society has become very active. It has sponsored an activity each month in order to fulfill its purpose which is to promote interest in the Spanish language. Among its activities have been a Spanish-style Christmas party, a Spanish dinner, and a movie about the Spanish culture and heritage.

This year was an interesting one for the members of the Mathematics Honor Society of Falls Church. The tutoring service for the college boards was considered successful and the students who received help through individual tutors can also vouch for the Society's service to the school. Math meets, field trips, guest speakers, and inductions were activities participated in by the Society's members.

National Thespian Honor Society

"To be or not to be." This phrase is not one frequently used by the National Thespian Honor Society, but it is representative of the many lines that the members of this Society learned for the fine dramatic productions that they have contributed.

An organization of students who have made meritous achievement in the field of dramatic art, Thespians consist of both backstage and onstage personnel. To become a member, a student must work on at least three plays.

This year the Thespians inducted six new members, took a trip to the state convention in Roanoke, and did major jobs in four dramatic productions, including a one-act put on solely by the Thespians.

How many times this past year have you been walking down the hall to your locker and have heard, "Hey you! Where do you think you're going?" Such is the cry of the Student Staff whose duty it is to keep the students out of the halls during lunch periods so that classes may be held without noisy disturbances.

Falls Church High School has always been superior in debating activities and this year was no exception. The team, consisting of Bob Blake and Richard Ashford, affirmative and Mike Thomas and David Hall, negative, was tied for second place in the District. This year's team, composed mostly of juniors, was hampered by inexperienced. It is hoped that the experience gained will bring greater victory to next year's team.

A twelve foot poster just won't fit anywere except in the hall. What will we do now? Photographers take those pictures!" Such were the cries that could be heard coming from room 131 seventh period as 27 students prepared the 1967 Jaguar.

The first preparations began during the summer and by the beginning of school the advertising campaign was underway. December brought the first deadline and an abundance of sweat, toil, tears, and laughter. Successive deadlines proved as hectic as the first, but by April the book was ready for publication, and the staff could finally rest, for a while anyway. Yet despite the many pressures here it is —the 1967 Jaguar.

By publishing more student opinion through a new column, "Outspoken" and through student letters to the editor, the Jaguar Journal circulated to a variety of students. Surplus copies of each issue were sold at Whittier Intermediate School. Circulation and profits increased greatly since last year.

Paw Print Seeks New Talent

Pat Turner, Editor-in-Chief, distributes stories to staff members.

No one could mistake room 208 5A lunch study hall as the center of Paw Print activity. Staff members were seen visiting Miss May asking for staplers, scissors, and most of the time, contributions. Editor Pat Turner could be heard coaxing some people to read, others to stop reading out loud. Visits were made occasionally by Adviser Miss May. At her entrance staff members would put away their homework and grab a story or poem. Despite these hardships the staff and editors made it through the year and produced two issues of Paw Print.

Imprint, headed by Cathy Little, was the literary magazine created to give recognition to freshmen and sophomores.

Key Club

Phil Gieseler prepores to deliver Volentines.

During the past year the F.C.H.S. Key Club has been very active with their many service projects. They again sponsered many of the activities which they held last year. Among these were the Jr.-Sr. Basketball game, Maid and Butler Day, and the collections for such organizations as UNICEF, March of Dimes, St. Jude's and UGF. Greatly appreciated by the students were their Christmas and Valentine Day mail boxes.

Keyette Club

For 10 years the Keyette Club has been serving F.C.H.S. and the surrounding community.

In keeping with past traditions, the club sponsored a Teachers' Appreciation Week, Traffic Safety Week, Maid and Butler Day. They also constructed Rufus Raider and sold voo doo dolls to boost spirit for the Stuart game.

To serve the community the Keyettes collected for UNICEF, St. Jude's Hospital, U.G.F. and the March of Dimes. They also served as teachers' aids for Project Head Start.

But the year was not only filled with projects. Bar-b-ques, slumber parties, soirées, and an ice-cream party for the wrestlers headed the list of the year's social events.

Formed with the purpose of promoting loyalty, school spirit, sportsmanship, and service to the school and community, the Torch and Banner Service Club is open to Sophomore, Junior, and Senior girls.

This year activities included decorating the main office and teachers' lounges at Christmas time, making coloring books for Children's Hospital, giving parties for the special education children at Pine Springs Elementary School, and collecting for the United Givers Fund.

Jim Beech was elected by the girls as their annual "Sweetheart."

In memory of Mrs. Mable Chapman, for her enthusiastic interest in the club, and for her helpful suggestions, the girls named their chapter of TABS the "Mable Chapman Chapter".

Service For Progress

"Service at the present for progress in the future" is the motto of the newly formed Kaden Club. Even though the club was first established at the end of the '66 spring semester, this was their first full year at Falls Church during which they accomplished many of the goals they had set. Beginning with their purpose to "serve the school", they held a slave day for the newly initated Falls Church wrestlers. During the Christmas season, the club assisted the T.B. Association with Christmas seals, and worked with crippled and retarded children at various health centers. Also during the Christmas season, the members held a Christmas party at a prominent rest home in the area. By selling shamrocks, baked goods, and collecting bottles the club raised money for its dance which was held in March. In all it's been a very successful first year for the Falls Church Kaden Club.

By bringing teenagers to the United States to live with an American family, and sending American students abroad for a summer, the American Field Service has fulfilled its purpose of "the furthering of understanding and good will in the world."

The task of raising the sum of $1100 to bring an exchange student to Falls Church was a hard one, but through various activities, such as selling school calendars, Christmas cards, and donuts, and checking coats at the Homecoming and Sweetheart Dances, the club raised enough money to sponsor our foreign exchange student, Cristina Ortiz from Spain. These activities also enabled Pat Kelley to spend the past summer in Weibern, Austria.

The German Club, a club open for all students of German, has been quite successful this year in raising money for A.F.S. Besides this, they have sponsored activities to promote the German language and customs such as skiing and a booth at the S.C.A. carnival.

Latin Club

The Latin Club has mainly been concerned with promoting interest in the Latin language and the history of ancient Rome. One of their typical meetings consisted of a long philisophical discussion on the life of a teenager in ancient Rome. Latin Week, climaxed with a Roman style banquet highlighted the year's activities.

Political Science Forum

In its first full year, the Political Science Forum acted in several areas to fulfill its purpose of heightening political consciousness.

Study of the history of political philosophy was begun using the two volume paperback anthology The Great Political Theories.

A discussion journal on educational reform was produced by the club this past year.

Several speakers were heard, including an ex-trainee on the Peace Corps, an A.C.L.U. lawyer on cop power vs. people power, and a "young old-leftist" on the new left.

Joy Boys

"And for ole' Falls Church High we'll yell and yell and yell . .," vowed the members of the Pep Club as their male counterparts, the Joy Boys, tried to out do them with their unique cheers. This scene could be witnessed at any athletic event as the two clubs competed for the Pep Stick.

Besides the cheering at the games, both clubs have held other activities to boost school spirit. The Pep Club decorated the goal posts, sold car decals, sold victory ribbons, and built the Jaguar, whose roar was followed by the cry, "Charge!" In order to make sure the athletic teams were taken care of properly, the Pep Club donated $500 to the Athletic Department.

The Joy Boys have supported all sporting events this past year including the underclassmen events. They also made a special point to aid the cheerleaders whenever possible. In order to acquire special noisemakers, the Joy Boys have sold doughnuts.

The Rifle Club, newly chartered this year is interested in promoting the proper use and care of the rifle. Among their many projects have been trips to Fort Meyer rifle range to practice shooting techniques.

Art Club

Bryna Freyer, Kathy Dodd, Mrs. Crum, and Elaine Cragle review the first results of copper enameling.

The Art Club has been very busy this past year. It sponsered two field trips to nearby art galleries and one trip to New York. The members made the program for the Winter Choral Concert, woodcuts and worked with copper enameling. In order to raise money they sold Christmas corsages and held their annual Variety Show, which focused on area bands this year.

Chess Club

Like to play chess? Then why not join the Chess Club? This past year the club has been very active teaching unskilled students to play chess and play well. The Chess Club also organized a team to represent Falls Church in inter-scholastic competition with other schools in the area. In all it has been a fun-filled year for the Chess Club.

"To increase the knowledge of science" has been the goal of the Science Club for this past year. Although they were small in number, they held many activities to promote their interest in science. Among their activities were films and visits by several guest speakers.

Cheerleading Club

"Two bits, for bits, six bits a dollar, all for Falls Church stand up and hollar ." This cheer and many others were presented to the student body by the members of the cheerleading club. Consisting of all the cheerleaders, the club was designed to unify the three squads. With weekly meetings the cheerleaders planned their spirit gimmicks and arranged club projects. Their main money raising functions were bake sales, the proceeds of which went toward financing such projects as cheerleading workshops attended by all the area cheerleaders. The members also sent representatives to cheerleading camp where they learned their many new cheers.

Do you plan to sit on the other side of the teacher's desk someday? Then you should join the Future Teachers of America Club.

As a very active club at F.C.H.S. the F.T.A. participated in Parents Visitation Day and Back-to-School Night. During the Christmas season, they sang at the Children's Hospital. A guest speaker talked to them about college life as a future teacher later in the year, and three representatives were sent to the NEA State Convention in Roanoke, Virginia. Perhaps their most beneficial activity was observing teachers and students at the elementary and junior high school levels.

Future Homemakers of America

What does a girl do when her main ambition is to become a housewife? She joins the Future Homemakers of America, of course. This is an organization of females determined to learn the eccentricities of running a home. Through guest speakers and group discussions they explored further the subjects touched on during home economics class. They learned about child care and courtship and marriage in addition to sewing, cooking and general housekeeping.

The Youth For Christ Club, established to promote spiritual interest, has been quite successful this past year in doing so.

Their main activities have included breakfast, parties, and participation in the local "quizzeramas" where they have won a trophy twice for Falls Church.

Future Business Leaders of America

Having trouble balancing your allowance? Then why not join The Future Business Leaders of America and learn to do things in a business-like manner?

During the year the F.B.L.A. sponsored the Miss Falls Church High Beauty Contest and along with this they sponsored a talent contest. Also, on their list of activities was "Dress Right Week," and provision of student secretaries for teachers. The teachers appreciated having their lounges decorated and the students appreciated the F.B.L.A. bulletin board—two more projects of the group. The F.B.L.A. had a full year of participating in school activities and helping the school.

The Distributive Education Club is composed of those students who take the D.E. course in school. They leave school early to report to their jobs such as sales clerks or typists. This past year the D.E. club has done much to promote interest in their jobs.

Intra-scholastic Cooperative Training

The I.C.T. club is similar to the D.E. club except that it involves students who do jobs in which manual labor is required, such as electricians, mechanics, and nurses' aid. During the year the I.C.T. club has held two functions; a tea and a banquet to which they were required to bring their employers.

The Fortune Teller

Count Berezowski (Joe Hare) loses the King's lottery ticket. Irma (Bonnie Isom) finds it. Fresco (John McConnell) tells Count Berezowski if he marries Irma her property will become his. Irma doesn't want to marry Count Berezowski so she has Musette (Karen Weedon) take her place. This was the plot of "The Fortune Teller," the first operetta to be presented at F.C.H.S. Amid bright lights, elegant costumes, and elaborate scenery "The Fortune Teller" provided enjoyable entertainment for all who attended.

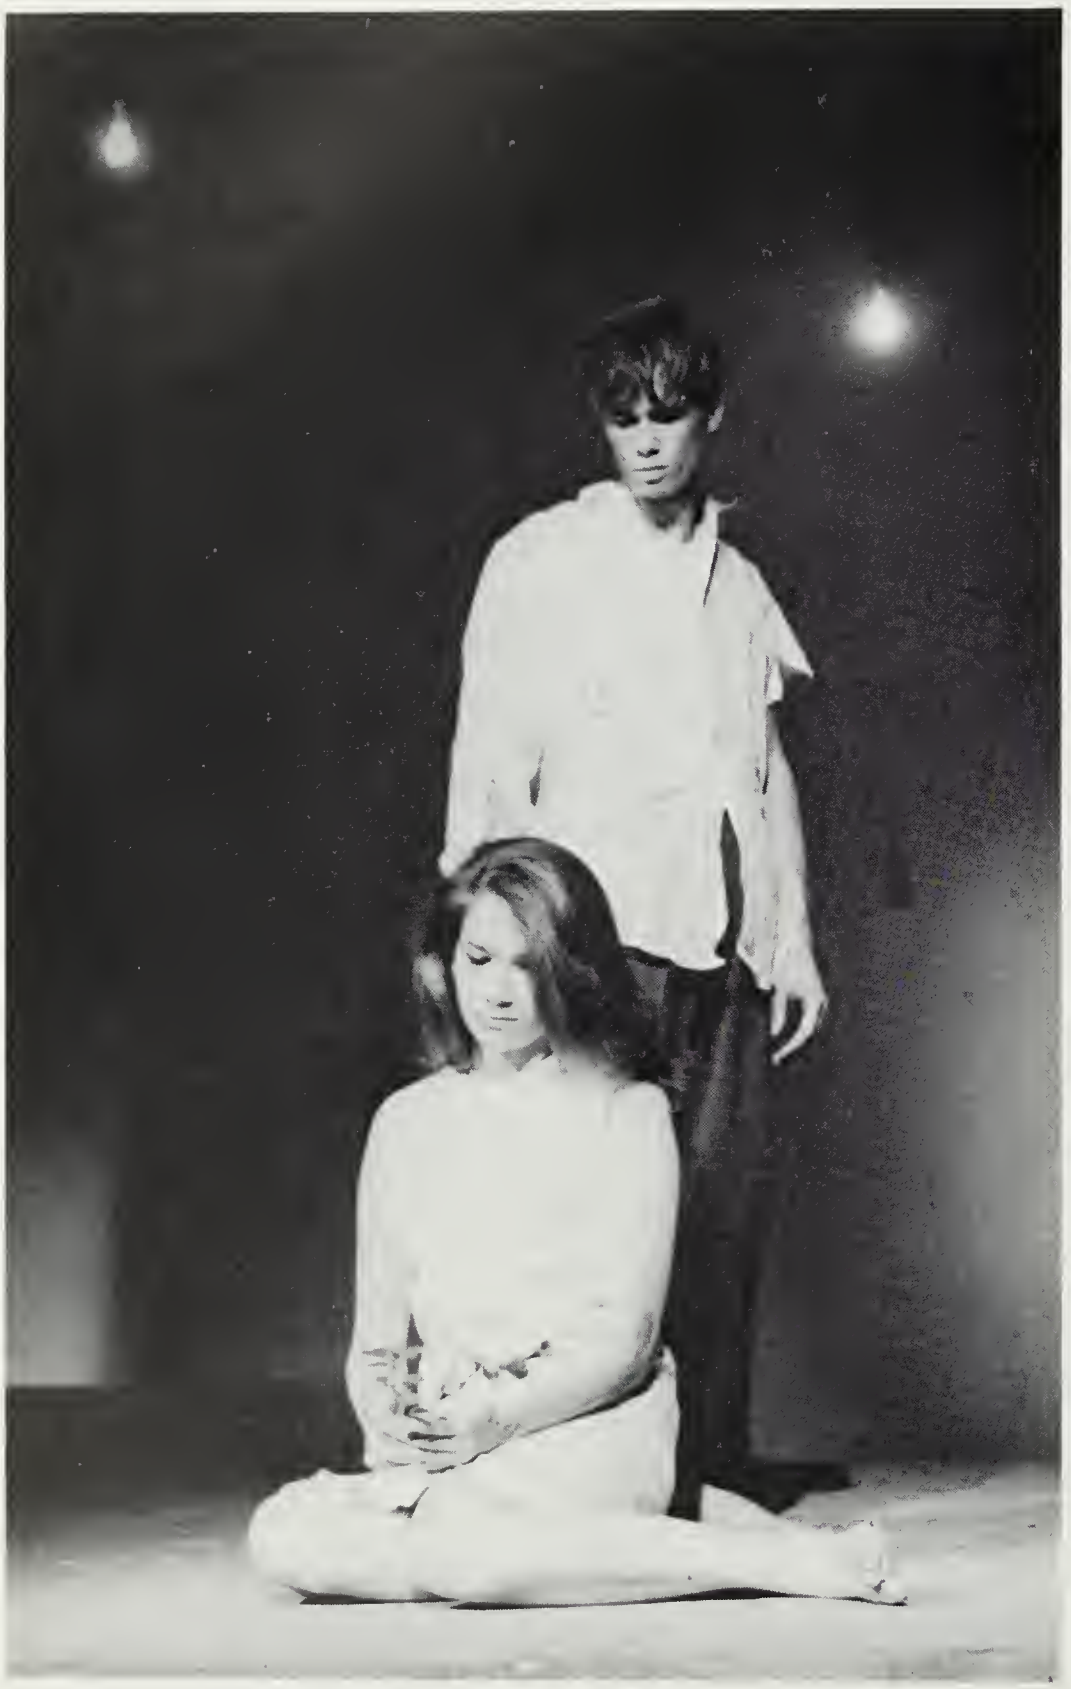

"You see she did os she wos told," replies John McConnell to Joe Hore

"Riff-roff! Why you ingrote! Hove you forgotten?" questions John McConnell of Koren Weedon.

JB: Prize Winning Play Presented

J. B. to Sarah: "You told me to curse God and die."

"What would this world be made of then?" asks Nickles.

"Yau have came! Yau have came!" says J. B. ta the comforters.

The lights have dimmed, the roustabouts have made their exit and two figures appear, one a gruff looking character with a tray of popcorn, the second a smaller, more pleasant fellow with a bunch of brightly colored balloons.

"This is it," says the popcorn peddler.

"This is what?" questions his companion.

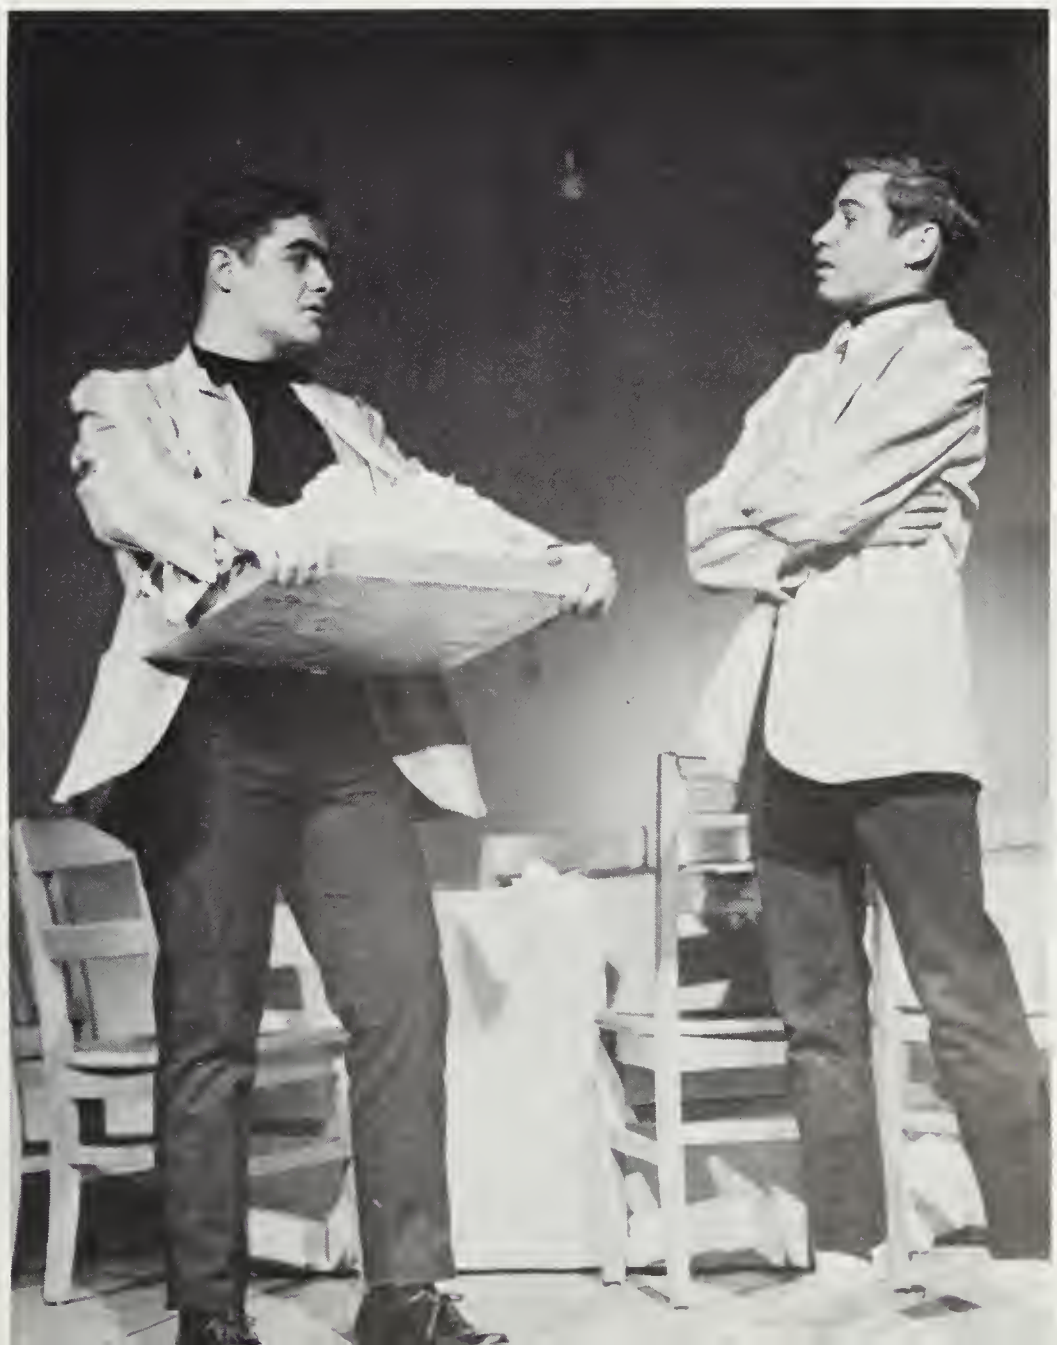

"Where they play the play," the peddler explains.

And that was just what they did, along with such drama department personalities as Meddy Martin and Alan Mullins who shared the glory of the leads with Jim Parr and Joe Ohleger, the balloonman and the popcorn peddler. The play itself was Archibald MacLeish's modern account of the book of Job. J. B. was the second Pulitzer Prize-Winning play presented at F.C.H.S.

"What's the gaad af faur old women?"

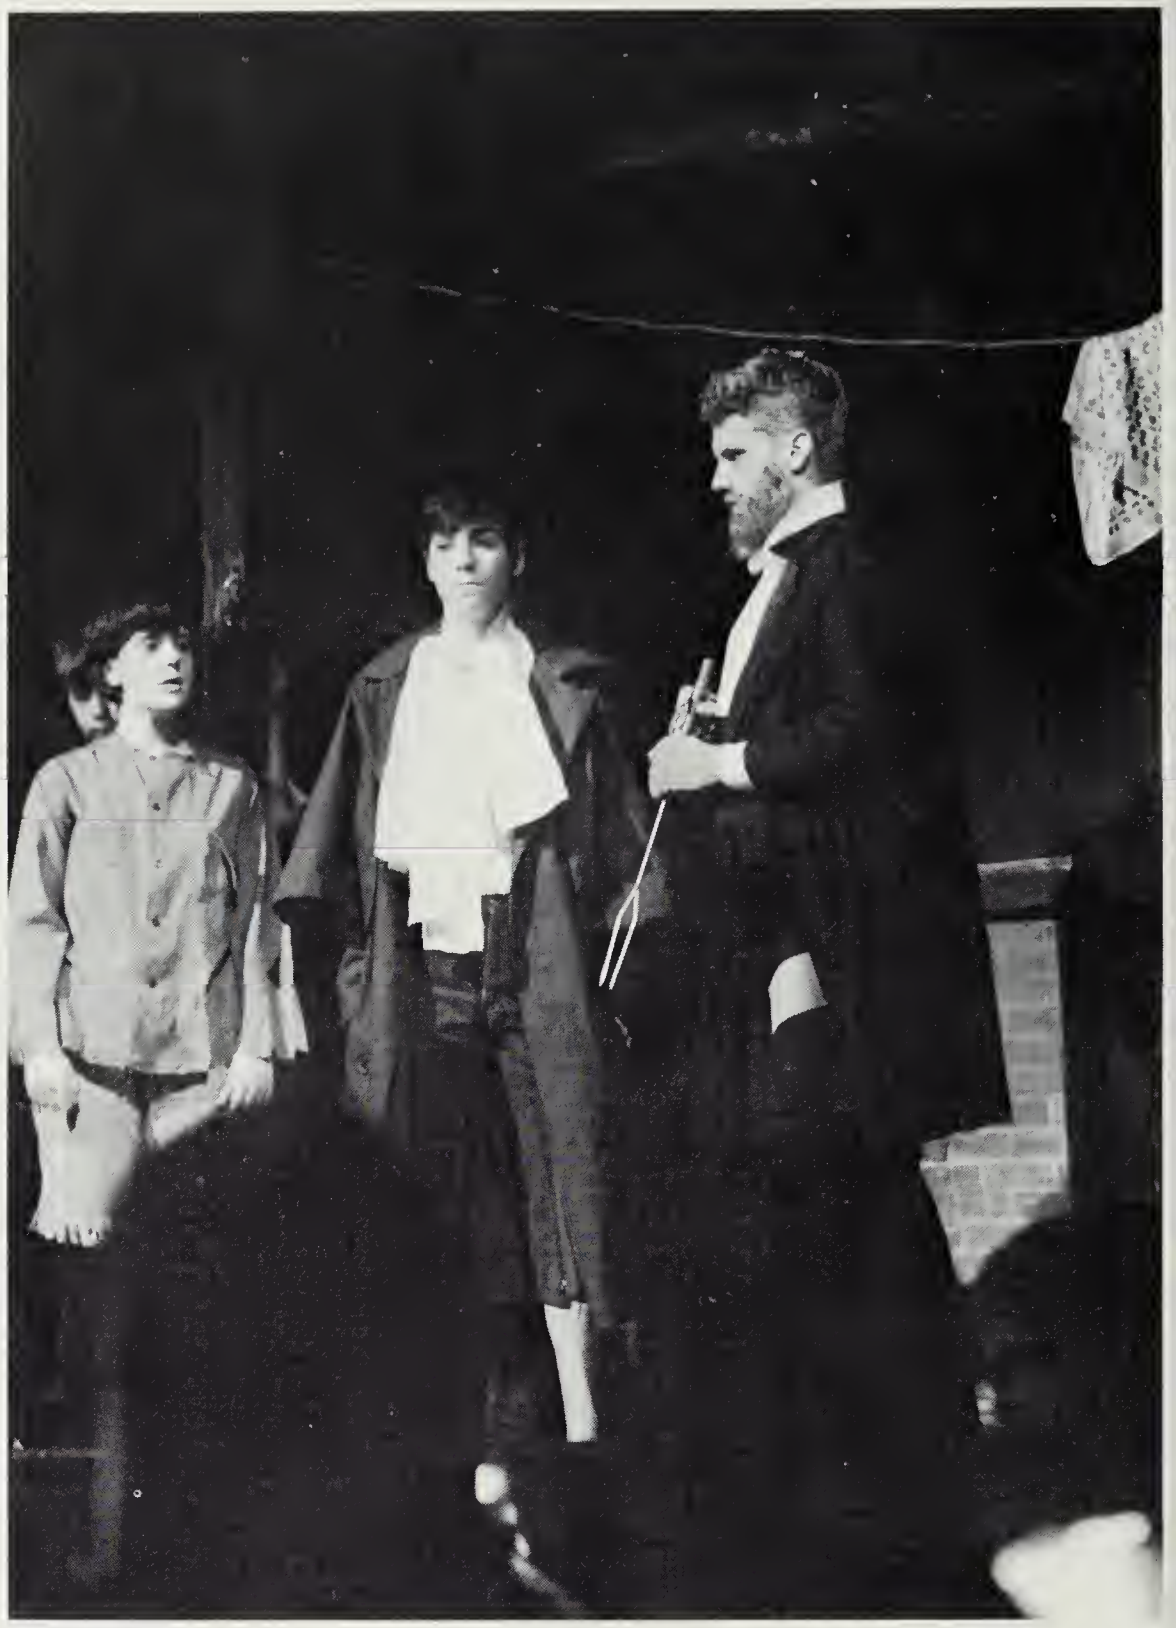

"Merchandise nat moving, Nickles?" questions Mr. Zuss.

"Oliver!" calls Mr. Bumble.

"I'll teach you how to pick my pockets, my dear": Fagin to Oliver.

"As long as he needs me": Nancy

Oliver!

With the combined talent of the drama department, choral department, and the band, this year's musical, Oliver!, was a tremendous success.

Oliver!, based on Charles Dicken's novel Oliver Twist, was the story of a young boy (Oliver) played by Mickey Fuson, who was forced to move from one guardian to another. His first home was in the workhouse managed by Mr. Bumble (Joe Hare) and the Widow Corney (JoAnn Todd) Mr. Bumble and the Widow then sold him to the Sowerberry's played by (Larry Johnson and Jo Worthy). After running away from the Sowerberrys, Oliver met Fagin (Bob Blake), Nancy (Alicia LaCoss), and Bill Sikes (Joe Ohleger), who taught him to pick pockets. While out one day with the artful Dodger (Gary Chewning), Oliver was taken by Mr. Brownlow (Steve Price) who grew to love him. In the end, Nancy was killed trying to return Oliver to Mr. Brownlow and Oliver learned that Mr. Brownlow was his grandfather.

"Somebody better go get the boy": Bill Sikes to Fagin.

Paddington Green

"Who will buy my red, red roses?": the vendor.

"Oh, my little ducky daddles. What a ridiculous pair of old lovers we are!"

The Bald Soprano

For the second year in a row the Falls Church High School Drama Department achieved a superior rating at the district one-act play festival and represented our school at the state competition in Charlottesville. A satirical farce on life, The Bald Soprano, marked another well deserved award for the drama department. The leads were held by veterans Meddy Martin, the senior class's "most talented," and Joe Ohlegar with supporting roles being held by Lynn Hooper, Karen Williams, Gary Chewing and Marshall Lunsford.

Blithe Spirit

Take one man and one wife, very happy, add another wife, quite dead, and you have Noel Coward's Blithe Spirit, the drama department's spring play. A classic British comedy, this "improbable farce" concerns a normal, happy couple who, when conducting a seance at a dinner party, find themselves with the playful ghost of the man's first wife. Gary Chewning, a newcomer to the stage this year in The Bald Soprano, portrayed the distraught husband who was plagued by two wives (rather than the customary one). The ghostly wife who disrupts her husband's home added another role to the long list acquired by Meddy Martin, this year's "most talented" girl. Karen Williams, first seen this year in JB and later in The Bald Soprano, was the second wife who went to extremes to rid her house of its supernatural visitor. Veteran Alicia LaCoss and newcomers Linda Burkett, Mary Morris, and David Vernon complete the cast, which brought something new to the FCHS stage, in what was the last production to be performed by our drama department in the old auditorium.

"You mustn't mind if everything is o little slow tonight,": Ruth to Chorles.

"Oh, Sir, whatever for?" says Edith to Charles.

"Is there anyone there wha wishes to speak to onyane here?", Mary Marris Meddy Martin, Gory Chewning, Lynda Burkett, ond Karen Williams.

Choral Department

The members of the Falls Church Choral Department have had a very active year. Their season began early with the production of "The Fortune Teller," the first operetta Falls Church has seen.

In December the department presented their annual Winter Concert. Also during the Christmas season, Madrigals and the A-Cappella Choir visited Pine Spring Elementary School and Whittier Intermediate School.

April was the scene for the Choral Department's musical production "Oliver", With the combined talents of the drama and choral departments, the musical was a tremendous success.

The end of the year saw the department present its annual Spring Concert. The year was climaxed by the Madrigals performance at graduation.

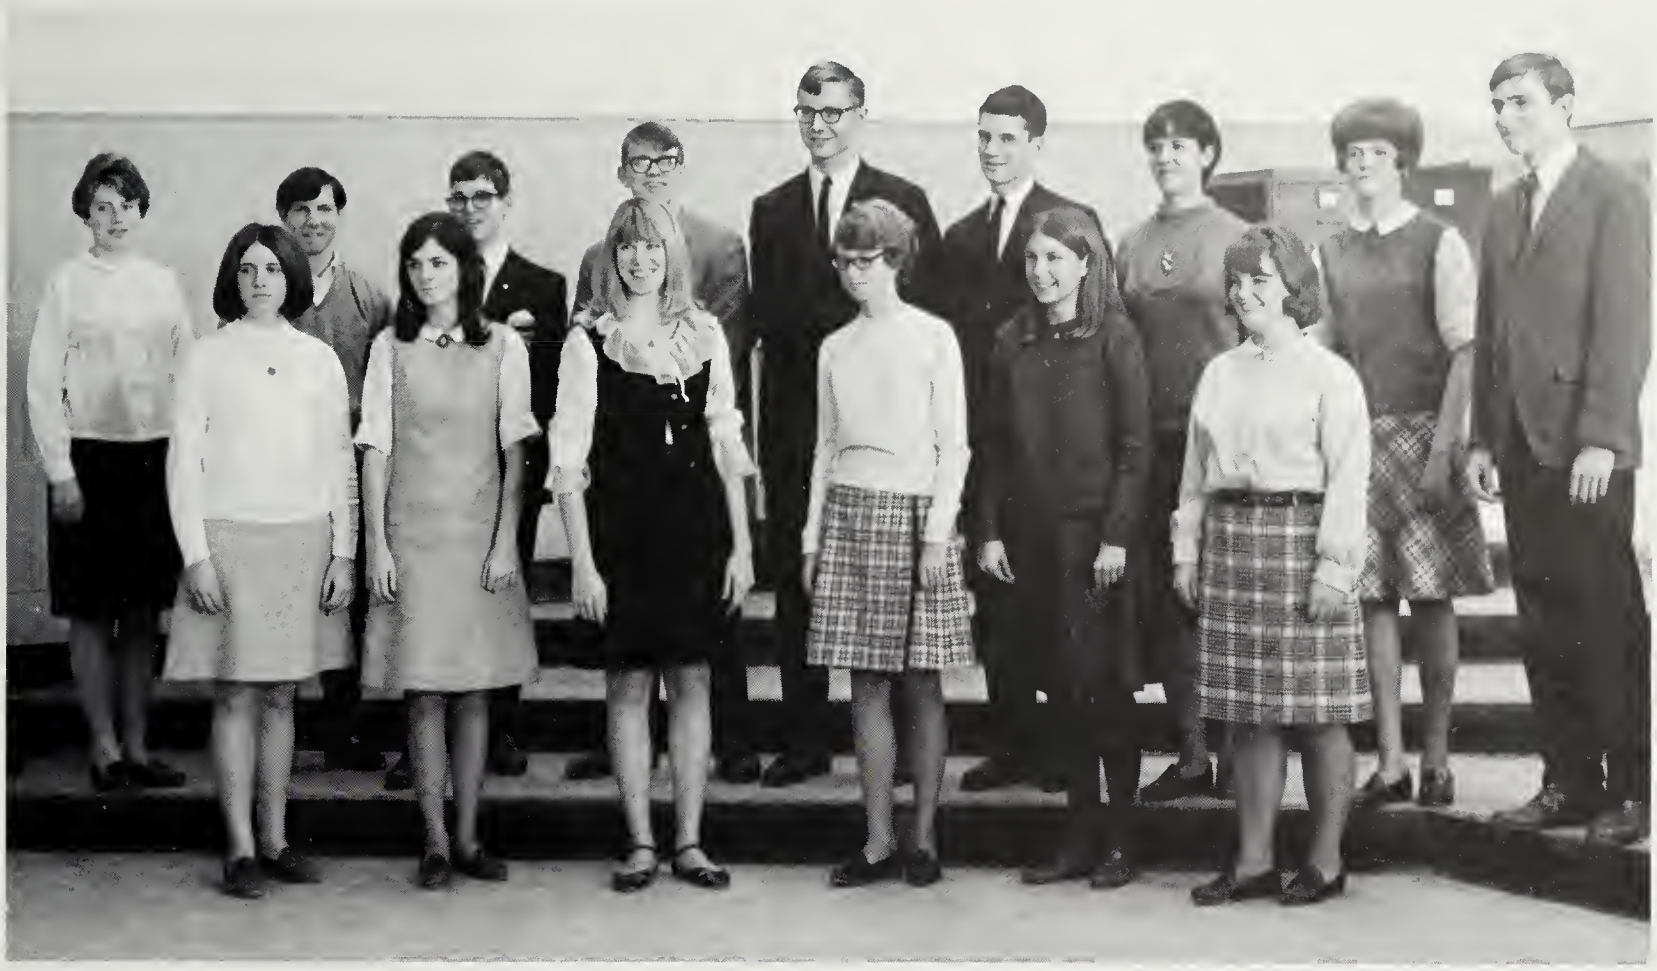

Alicia LaCoss sings the roll of Nancy in Oliver.

Concert Band

This year the Falls Church High School Band proved to be one of the very finest in Falls Church's history. In June the band received standing ovations for both concerts at the Virginia Beach Music Festival where they reigned as Honor Band for 1966.

In August, the band spent a week at Orney Springs, Virginia, band camp, where they prepared for the fall marching season. The band astounded football audiences with fantastic half-time marching exhibitions, which were unsurpassed anywhere in Northern Virginia.

In November, the band traveled to William and Mary College to treat the audiences of William and Mary and V.P.I. to a spectacular half-time show.

On March 11, the concert band received a "Superior" rating in grade six music at the winter band festival held at Annandale.

In April, the Jaguar band, as usual, gave a fine showing at the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C.

Spring plans included a trip back to Virginia Beach and looking forward to accepting the invitation to Canada's Expo '67.

A quick look in the mirror for Edye and Karen before the presentation.

The first formal occasion of the year was smothered in mountains of napkins and chrysanthemums and was highlighted by a rousing football game. The 1966 Homecoming Court was presented to the music of Rodgers and Hammerstein. In float competition the Junior Class, Keyettes and Joy Boys took honors.

At the "Ice Palace", a new alias for the cafeteria, everyone rocked to the sound of the "Lost Souls" and Miss Edye Stephenson was crowned 1966 Homecoming Queen by last year's queen, Clara Huff.

G-L-O-R-I-A, GLOR-I-A!

Amid the shrieks of the guys being chased around the cafeteria, you could hear Billy Wells solemnly saying: "By the power invested in this sweat shirt, I now pronounce you man and wife." In the distance could be heard the call of the pig, alias The Broken Chain. One passerby commented that there were some of the most authentic characters ever. Thus Sadie Hawkins day was celebrated in the best of Falls Church tradition.

The ever popular Maid and Butler Day festivities were co-sponsored by the Keyette and Key Clubs to raise funds for the March of Dimes. The fun began before school in the upper Cherry Street lobby, where the maids and butlers met their masters. Some of the butlers, alias Key Club members, found themselves in make-up and dresses while others were dutifully chained to their masters. One poor maid found herself in a complete scuba diving outfit.

The servants were required to spend the day lugging books, siging "Mary Had A Little Lamb", and doing all types of dirty work. Their just reward was the $80.00 raised for March of Dimes.

Another Victory for Class of '67

"64-23-89, Hike" cried senior defense captain, "Big Rhee" Burgess and the 1966 Powder Puff game was off to a winning start. Although the juniors put up a good fight, the seniors spurged on to a 21-6 victory.

Meanwhile the cheerleaders (?) for both teams engaged in a soggy water balloon fight. During halftime, fugitives from the school band provided music (?) for the junior cheerleaders to work off pent-up emotions. The festivities ended with everyone running down the street to catch the late-bus.

Christina Ortiz Crowned Miss Falls Church High 1967

The Miss Falls Church High Beauty Contest, judged by WEAM's Happy O'Hare and Amanda Blake of Cinderella Finishing School, was the most impressive ever held at Falls Church High School. The atmosphere was that of a Miss America Pageant—truly exciting and different.

As each contestant, dressed in a suit, stepped into the spotlight on the platform, her past, present, and future hopes were revealed to the audience and judges. In the background the Tiajuana Brass could be heard playing softly. Soon the contestants returned in formal gowns.

All the excitement was brought to a climax as Christina Ortiz, our foreign exchange student, was crowned Miss Falls Church High 1967 by Joyce Peters, Miss Falls Church High last year.

Hard work, cold winds and muddy fields doesn't dampen the enthusiasm of the Girls Hockey Team, coached by Miss Weisgerber. Why do these girls participate in this sport that makes football look like child's play? Some say it is school spirit; others, competiveness but the girls say it's because they enjoy it.

Although the team had an unsuccessful year, they plan to be back on the field next year with the spirit of try, try again.

The 1967 Junior Varsity Wrestling Team showed great promise for the upcoming years as they compiled a 50 per cent 4-4 record. Strong performances by Joey Everhard at 95 and Freshman Tom Bell helped to give the team the necessary push to win several one point matches. Randy Scott, in his second year as coach, had a team wellstocked with freshmen. With these boys showing good style as freshmen, the Varsity should have plenty of candidates in the next three years.

The name of the game is girls basketball, but one might think the game was try outs for the track team. "Run, run, run, all we ever do is run. What does she think she is doing to us?" These grumbles were frequently heard coming from the gym during practice sessions of the girls basketball team.

Even though the girls had an unsuccessful season, the competition they faced made basketball an exciting challenge. In the McLean game the opposition gave way and allowed senior, Chris Andrews, to set a new girl's scoring record of twenty-nine points.

Sprained ankles, jammed fingers and blistered callouses marked the end of the girls basketball season.

FACULTY

Mr. Todd: an important administrative notice

Principal

Mr. Thomas D. Todd is respected among the students at Falls Church for his quiet, friendly manner and his desire to be of help whenever possible. Always ready to listen, Mr. Todd has willingly served many of us.

With a B.A. from the University of Richmond and an M.A. from the University of Michigan, Mr. Todd is well prepared to lead our school.

Mr. Todd has a long history with the Virginia school system. He was Director of Physical Education for twelve years here at Falls Church before returning in 1964 to become our principal.

Mr. Valotto: a close guard on the halls.

Mr. Arthur Valotto, our Assistant Principal for Administration, has quickly become a known and respected administrator. Along with his other duties, Mr. Valotto is sponsor of the S.C.A. and has contributed greatly to its success this year.

He received a degree from West Virginia University and was athletic director here at Falls Church. After being assistant principal at Madison for two years he returned to Falls Church where he has served for the past three years.

Assistant Principals

Mr. Vliet: another memo

Mr. Leland Vliet graduated from George Washington University with a masters degree in economics. In 1947 he taught in our Social Studies Department but left in 1962 to be assistant principal of Robert E. Lee. But he, too, returned to Falls Church in 1965.

He keeps a close eye on the faculty and teaching methods and is a constant visitor to our classrooms.

"Ricky Derrickson, if you cut my class one more time you'll be sorry!" threatens Miss Wakefield.

Great Expectations to Macbeth are only a few of the landmarks students encounter during their four year jaunt through English. In between these two classics other literary greats such as Julius Caesar ("Friends, Romans, Countrymen . . .") and The Scarlet Letter (who could forget Hester's "ignominy?"). There are also stops at the traditional weekly vocabulary tests, composition assignments, and term papers. And these are only a few of the lessons learned in our English classes.

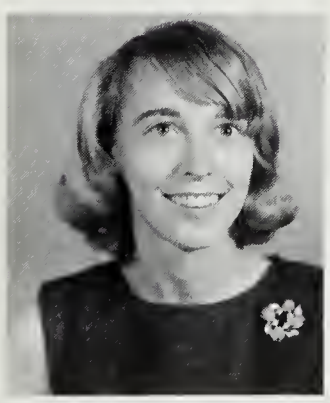

With the addition of four new teachers, Miss Sue Wakefield, Miss Elizabeth White, Mr. Sidney Bennett, and Mr. Gerald Ragland, the department once again set out on their campaign to improve the students' language ability. Mrs. Jan Herman took over the Advanced Placement Senior English course and with the help of such familiar figures as William Shakespeare and Archibald MacLeish, set out to prepare her students for skipping a freshman English course at college.

Inspired students enrolled in Miss Joanne May's creative writing class and prepared to write their first novels while Mr. Gerald Ragland took over the illustrious drama department and helped groom Falls Church High's Broadway stars of the future.

Mathematics

The bewildered freshmen cry "Algebra I, why did I take it?" Confident sophomores yell "What is an equilaterial triangle?" Proud juniors groan, "I hate Algebra II!" The mighty seniors shout with amazement, "Do you believe I passed the trig test?" These cries are typical of those that echo through the math wing. But over in the shop a grim shadow (pierced only by "What do you mean you broke the saw?") hovers over Mr. Garhart's Advanced Placement Calculus Class.

Despite the confused expressions that may be heard from time to time, a capable math department, which was increased this year by one new member, Mr. Bill Lillevig, manages to successfully enlighten the students and prove to them 2 plus 2 really does equal 4.

Donnerwetter! Ruhe!

"How do you say "hang ten" in French, Mrs. Schoenleber?" ask a grinning skate board enthusiast. No doubt the new addition to the foreign language department has been bombarded by many such questions.

There have been several other changes in the department this year; Miss Collette Carozza was promoted to head of the language department and Commander Heine, an old face at Falls Church High, has transferred from the math department.

Even though at first the languages seem Greek to everyone, our language department manages to inject a surprising amount of knowledge quite painlessly.

Social Studies

"That red spot in the middle of the blue is a country," explains Mr. Sell to his inquisitive freshman. At the same time across the hall Col. Mare shows very knowing seniors the glories of a democracy; underconfident sophomores learn about Napoleon from Mr. Pejack; and overconfident juniors argue the results of the Civil War with Miss Wilson.

And who could ever forget the field trips ("I was sure that restaurant was right next to the Archives"), and the reports ("Mr. Yount, I'm sure you said next Monday."), the term papers (996 words . . . 997 words . . . "), and of course, those movies ("I wasn't sleeping, Mr. Olson, honest!").

But the social studies teachers, under the wise direction of Mr. Frank Mishou, give Falls Church students a better understanding of the world they live in.

Science

What is the wonderful world of science like at Falls Church High?

Through a student you might hear: "Say Mr. Scott, you told me this frog was dead. Look at his heart!" or, "Hey, cool! I've got a new teacher, Mrs. Armetha Corbin. Chemistry should be a blast this year showing her the ropes!" Also new this year are Miss Judy Brunhouse in biology and Mr. Jim Warren in science and biology.

Science from Mr. Feather's point of view might be: "Why shouldn't I count off if you don't circle the answer. That's the most important part."

To make this year's wonderful world of science a bit different, a science fair was held to end the year successfully.

Around and around it goes, and where it stops only Mr. Feather knows.

"Gosh, all I ever get to do is fold the filter paper," complains Chip Belyea.

From "Caveot Emptor" in General Business to Congressional Record in Shorthand II, the business student covers a variety of skill-building subjects. For years the words "Keep your eyes on the copy!" will ring in the memories of typing students as they leave the "hunt and peck" system for the more dignified touch system and speed building. Distress plagued the shorthand student as the English composition she rushed through is returned filled with question marks over the shorthand symbols and phonetical spelling.

But there are the happy memories — joking over those "weird" spelled words (Mrp for Mr. President); the days that someone hid Miss Estes' stop watch in high hopes of delaying dictation; and last, but not least, the days we acted enthusiastic over the lab for unsuspecting visitors.

The problem of "Getting that job and keeping it" faced every V.O.T., I.C.T., and D.E. student.

Business Law helped all those interested in the legal way of avoiding laws connected with business. Debits, credits, journals, taxes, payrolls, and practice sets were some of the "gems" that plagued students in bookkeeping and recordkeeping. Notehand and personal typing were offered for the college bound student.

Mrs. Doris Rees became a welcome addition to our staff of business teachers this year.

Choral Music

Any noise coming from the lower wing of our school is probably bellowing out of our music department. Mrs. Wilma Hamilton may have her choral singers rehearsing, or Mr. James Lunsford may have the band practicing until they have a number absolutely perfect.

Mr. Lunsford makes tracks.

Mrs. Frances Crum, our original art teacher, and Mrs. Mary Ruth Cloe, a relative newcomer to Falls Church, give students with interest and abilities in art a number of opportunities to express themselves. The best of their works are displayed in our annual art show.

Throughout time man has constantly been striving to improve his construction techniques. Machines have made this task easier. With the aid of Mr. Harvey Cooper and Mr. John Locascio, our two veteran shop teachers, industrial art students learned new skills. Mr. Joe Hawks, a newcomer to our school, has also shown fine leadership in this field.

Students make such objects as clay elephants, wooden masks, steel bookends, and plastic containers. Shop not only trains the student in skills but requires him to master the art of cleaning up.

Home Economics

In home economics courses, Falls Church girls are taught everything they will need to know to make good homemakers. Mrs. Lacey, Mrs. Sutphin, and Mrs. Veazey agree that all girls can master the tricky techniques of sewing, cooking, and house cleaning. Good luck girls. The boys hope you make it for their sake.

Physical Education and nothing else would be many students' idea of the perfect schedule. Our friendly staff of Miss Peggy Dowdy, Miss Nancy Weisgerber, Mrs. Bernice Lilly, Mr. Ron Matalavage, Mr. Paul Weber, and certainly Mr. Bob (''How could you be so dumb?'') Pruett make physical education the most enjoyable subject and one that keeps F.C.H.S. students physically fit.

Kindness, patience, tolerance, cheerfulness, capabilities, and sincere interest in one's fellow man are the characteristics of a great teacher. Certainly these were the characteristics possessed by Mrs. Mable Chapman who ably served Falls Church High School for more than twenty years as biology teacher and Science Department Chairman.

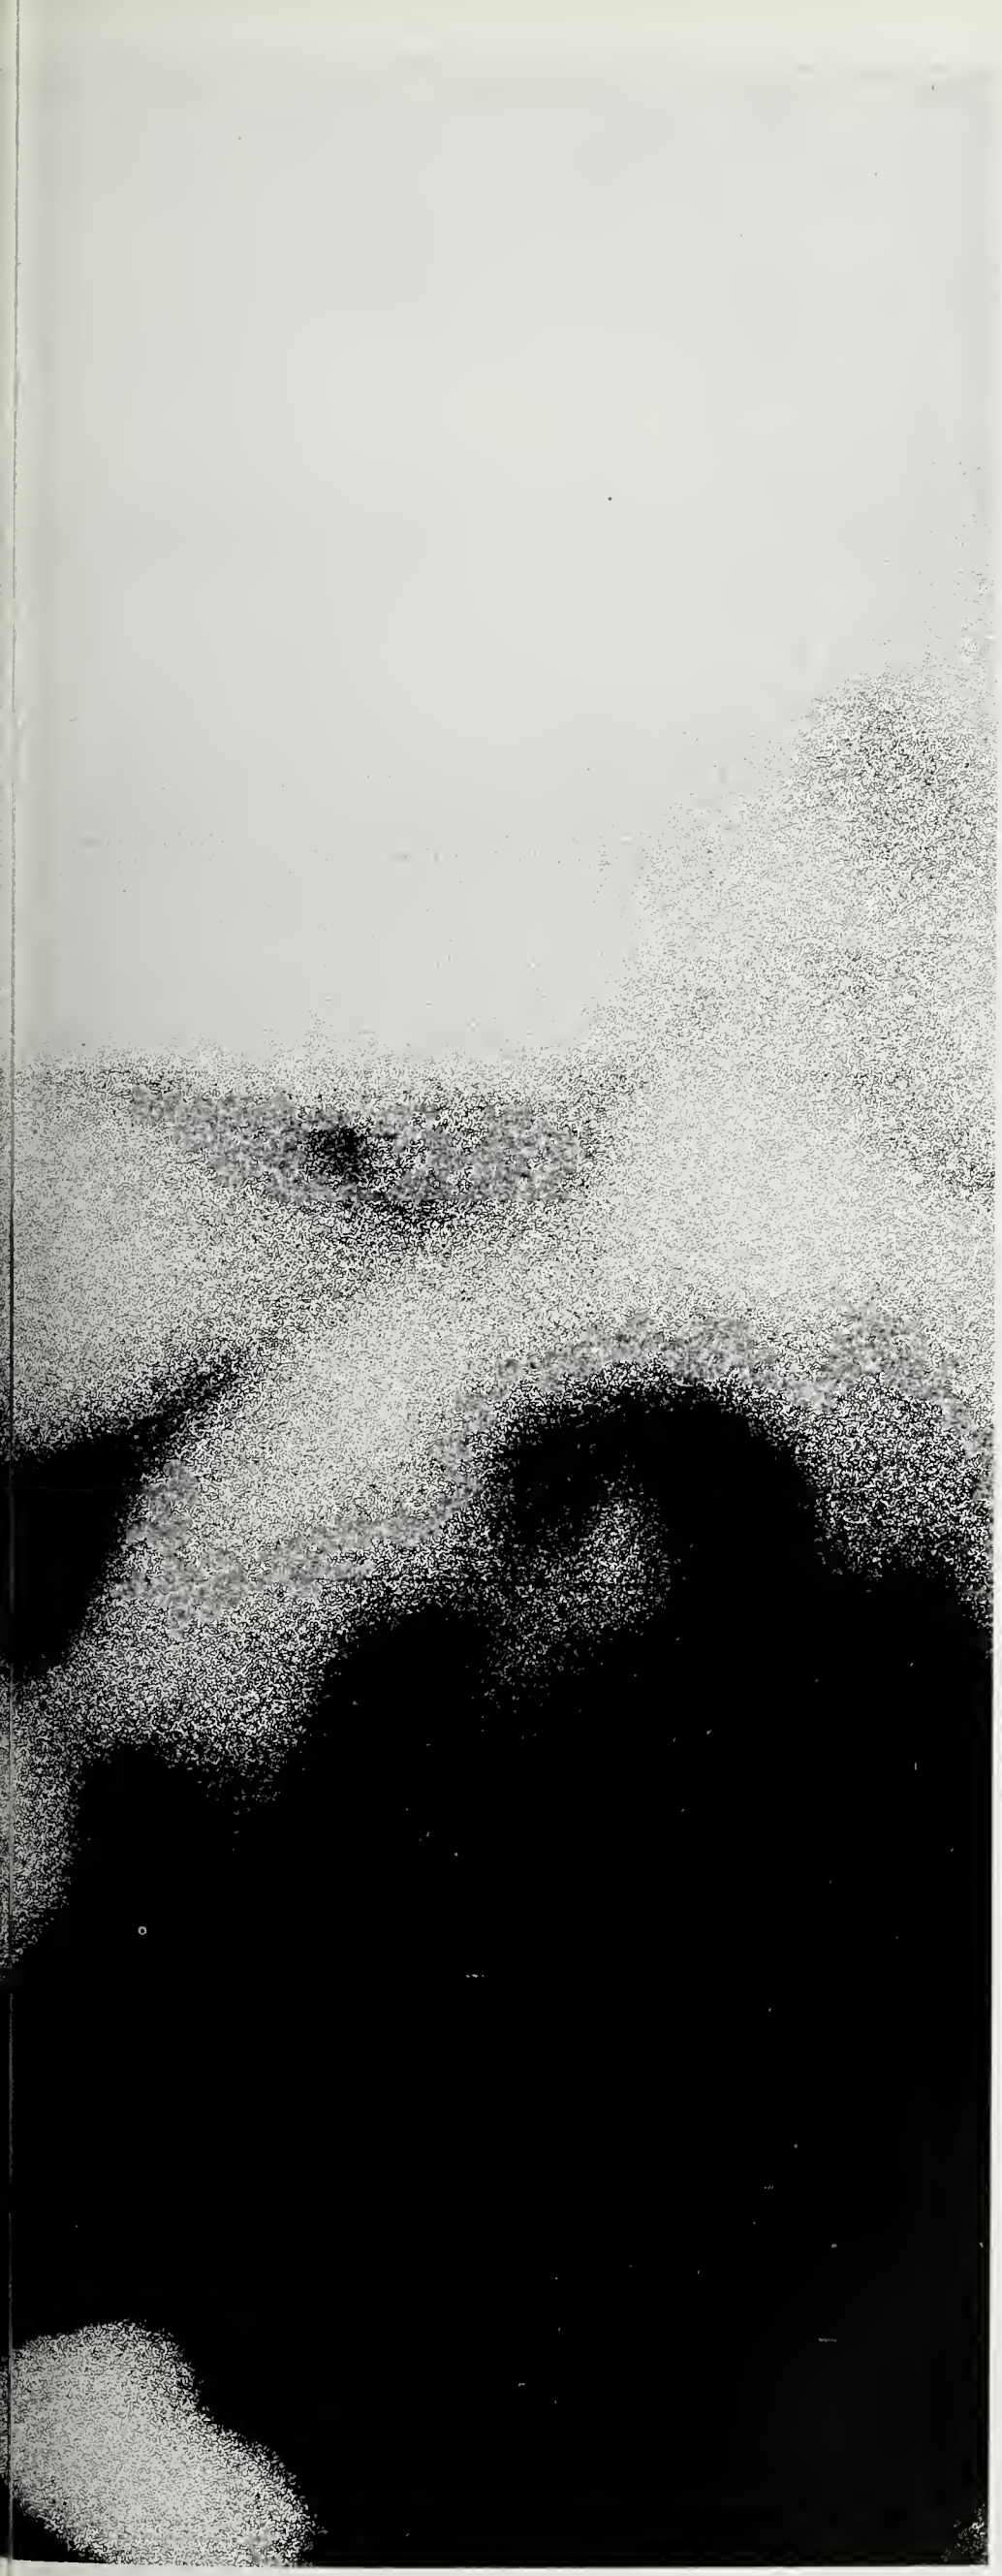

Preparing a lab experiment, having a department meeting, helping members of the National Honor Society make a decision, working with the Junior Class for a successful prom, offering her friendly assistance to a new faculty member are a few of the scenes in which we remember Mrs. Chapman. Her schedule, however, was never too busy to prevent her from being a friend to her students.

Mrs. Chapman once said that "Falls Church High School was a way of life," and certainly she contributed much of her life to make us a "better way of life." For this service and her warm personality we remember and remain indebted to Mrs. Mable Chapman.

CLASSES

Freshmen Cross First Hurdle

Freshman Class Officers — Paul Zavinsky, President; Darren Poole, Secretary; Judy Fuge, Vice-President; Debbie Downey, Treasurer.

The class of 1970 played an active part in the school curriculum this year. They began making a name for themselves by winning the Magazine Drive and the last bonfire competition. Several bake sales were held during the year and candy was sold around Valentine's Day. Finally, the freshmen completed their year's activities with a Saint Patrick's Day Dance in the spring. They successfully completed their first year at Falls Church High, crossing the first hurdle in their high school career.

Sophomores Strive for a United Class

"This is what I call arganization!" laughs Sue Lanagan as Danny Daniels replies, "Yea, man."

The Sophomore Class began a busy year under the organized leadership of Nancy Albertson, Diane Ordakowski and the other officers. Detailed plans were made for each activity and especially for their homecoming float. An enormous pink and blue elephant carrying a Highlander player in its trunk was constructed for this occasion. High hopes were crushed when this float won only second place in the class competition.

The sophomores threw a Victory Dance concluding the football season. a three-weeks' dues drive was held to bring in money for the goal set up for their future prom.

With all their strength and might, the sophomores battled against the juniors bringing in wood for the enormous bonfire in the fall. The sophomore class bonfire pile lacked a few inches from reaching the zenith of the juniors' separate pile of logs, telephone poles, and broken-down piano parts.

The sophomores say thot their elephont will never forget the year Falls Church High won their Homecoming Gome.

Juniors Complete a Successful Year

Mr. Stark arrived in time to bring victary far the Jaguars and the juniors at the annual homecoming game.

The juniors are victorious in almost everything they do! With ambition, determination, and high hopes the Class of '68 began their third year of bake sales, car washes, and newspaper drives.

After collecting wood for several weeks, the juniors won the annual bonfire contest for their third successive year. Many strenuous days were spent constructing the Stork for the homecoming game, which won first place in the class competition and brought in $30 for the treasury. The dues drive, which lasted two weeks, brought in a total of $500.

Valuable time and extensive practice went into the preparation of the athletic junior girls for the Powder Puff game. Although defeated, there's hope for victory next year.

Anticipation mounted as juniors eagerly awaited the arrival of the "coveted" class rings.

Finally, the successful year was concluded by the biggest and most extravagant Prom ever, held at the International Inn, with the theme "Shower of Stars."

"This is yaur Weam Team Reparter, Sue Hudspeth, calling in all the Junior Class news."

The brilliant bonfire reaches a zenith as it proclaims the juniar class victarious in the bonfire competition.

Class of '67 ends an era

Rick Robson: Examinations

Seniors at last! The thought was apparent in the minds of the class of '67 as they began school in September. After three years of waiting, seniority was theirs. Now they could answer proudly to "Seniors, please rise" at assemblies, and become the leaders of most of the school's clubs and activities.

The football team, consisting mainly of seniors, proved to be the most outstanding team in twelve years, while their feminine counterpart made school history by becoming the only undefeated Power Puff team.

In class activities, under the guidance of president Ann Swing, they worked hard and earned the necessary funds for the class gift and graduation fees. They were determined to leave behind memories of their class in the minds of the faculty and underclassmen.

But being a senior was not all cut cards, superiority and class projects as the class of '67 learned. They soon discovered the treachery of Macbeth, the value of our government, and the ways and means of writing term papers the hard way in "three easy lessons." They also discovered the anguish of college applications and the joy of receiving that acceptance, showing them that the last four years were really worth the effort and that come next September they would view the future with a new perspective.

David,
Have a little bit of fun
this summer and raise some hell, only don't hit anymore of those telephone poles. Also stay away from those carnivals, you never win. I'll probably be seeing you over the summer, not Lynn just you. Stay sane.

Jay

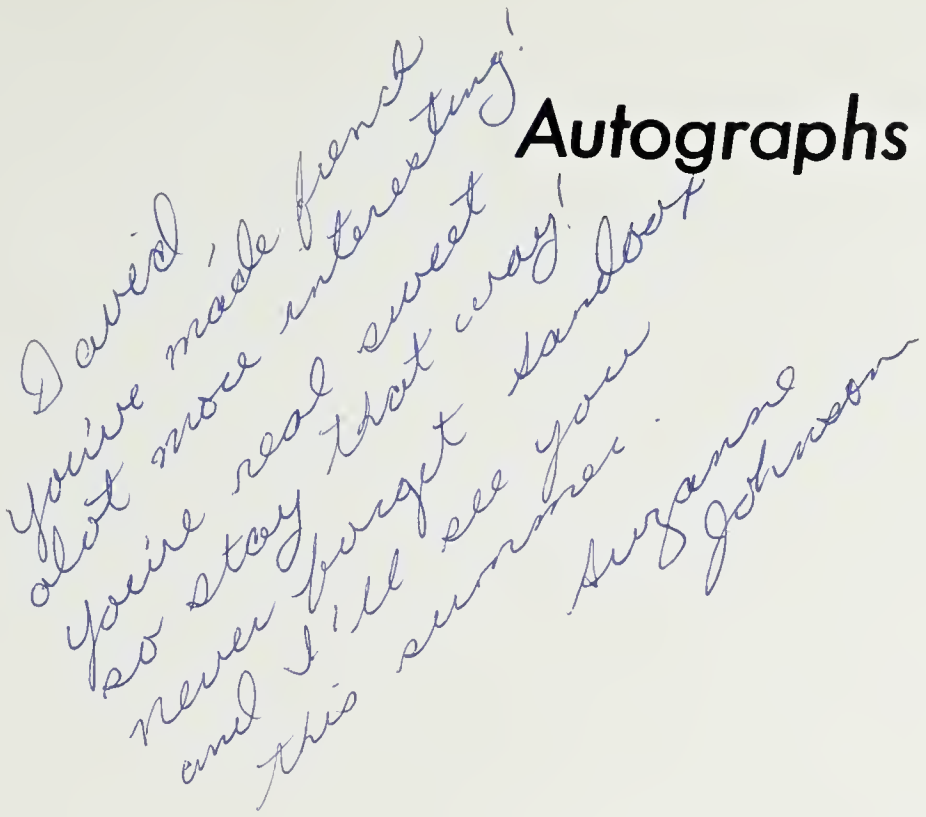

David
To a real sweet guy who I wish lots of success. Stay just as you are and don't change.
good luck and I hope to see you next year.

Love
Cheryl
Davis

Dave,
Gym class was fun but
Mr. Matalavage wasn't. Have fun this summer and don't hit any telephone poles, especially in your neighbor's car. It isn't profitable.
Dan

Dave, to a real sweet guy in English!
Hope you have a great summer! Lots of luck in the future with school and GIRLS!

David,
You've made friends
alot more interesting!
You're real sweet
so stay that way!
never forget Sandbar
and I'll see you this summer.
